

You are the Leader – Here's Your Crown

Now You are Queen (or King!)

In our communities, homes, and work, we find ourselves in leadership roles. Yet often, our roles don't come with titles or crowns. We need to get the book club organized, the community cleaned up, or the kids' sports teams mobilized, but we don't have the authority needed for the job. Sometimes we have responsibility for creating initiatives, instituting programs, or getting groups to perform. Unfortunately, we may not have the power to determine manpower, make decisions, or increase resources. How can we create positive results when we have limited authority? In this program, you will see yourself as the leader you actually are!
